Abstract. An analysis of the fees for the provision of administrative services, proposed by the draft Law «On Administrative Fees» (№ 4380 dated November 16, 2020), with the fees for the specified services established in the current legislation of Ukraine, was carried out. A number of differences due to different approaches to determining the calculation of costs and cost of paid administrative services, criteria for free administrative services, etc., have been identified. The emphasis is placed on the expediency of finalization and generalization by separate categories of types of administrative services provided on a free basis. It was noted that almost 70 services, which are currently free of charge, are not justified. It was noted the need to clarify the name of a number of administrative services in order to comply with the provisions of the current legislation of Ukraine.

236. Analytical note on comparative legislation on consideration of citizens' appeals by parliamentary standing committees

https://research.rada.gov.ua/uploads/documents/32302.pdf

Abstract. Comparative analysis of the legislation of foreign countries on examination by parliamentary standing committees of citizens' appeals was carried out in the analytical note. To answer the questions, the legislation of seven countries was studied: Austria, Belgium, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Croatia, Denmark, Georgia and Germany. The conducted analysis showed that all states consider the appeal to the parliament as a constitutional right. Most states single out petitions among the variety of forms of citizens' appeals. In some parliaments, a permanent committee is founded to consider petitions and other appeals from citizens. The procedure for consideration of appeals (petitions) from citizens by parliamentary committees is usually identical to the general procedure for consideration by parliamentary committees of issues that are within their scope of authority.

Key words: the right to appeal, citizen's appeal, petition, parliament, parliamentary standing committees.

243. Informational Reference on the Possibility of Parents Staying with Their Children in the Plenary Chambers of the Parliaments of Certain European States and the European Parliament

https://research.rada.gov.ua/uploads/documents/34410.pdf

Abstract. The informational reference provides a comparative legal analysis of the practice of the parliaments of European States and the European Parliament regarding the possibility for Members of Parliament to be accompanied by their children, particularly infants, in plenary chambers during parliamentary sittings and voting. European approaches are examined through the concept of family-friendly parliaments, the principles of gender equality, and the reconciliation of family and professional responsibilities. Two main models of legal regulation are identified: the permissive (inclusive) model and the prohibitive (restrictive) one. The study also analyses the legislation, parliamentary rules of procedure, and practice of Italy, Germany, Spain, France, Belgium, Denmark, Lithuania, Latvia, Estonia, Poland, and other States.

Keywords: parent Members of Parliament, parliamentarians, children in parliament, family-friendly parliaments, parliamentary chamber, proxy voting, remote voting, reconciliation of family and professional responsibilities.

PARLIAMENTARY STUDIES

306. Parliamentary Study on the Legislative Framework of European Policy in Combating Illicit Drug Trafficking and Transnational Organised Drug Crime

Abstract. The parliamentary study analyses the priorities of European policy on preventing illicit drug trafficking and outlines legislative initiatives aimed at the decriminalisation of cannabis in certain Member States of the European Union. The content of European legislative acts that introduced the reform of organizational and legal principles for combating illicit drug trafficking and the systematic fight against transnational organized drug crime is disclosed.

The study analyses the EU Roadmap to fight Drug Trafficking and Organised Crime, describes the EU Drugs Strategy and the Action Plan against Drug Trafficking, and summarises the 2025 and 2026 reports of the European Union Drugs Agency on drug-related threats, risks, trends, and drug phenomenon. Europol's achievements in combating transnational organized drug crime are identified, and areas for developing international cooperation between the European Union Agency for Law Enforcement Cooperation and law enforcement agencies of Latin American and West African countries are detailed. The study systematises the main directions of countering transnational organised drug crime in the context of strengthening European law enforcement capabilities. Based on the analyzed Europol reporting materials, the achievements of European law enforcement activities in the field of combating illicit drug trafficking, the results of comprehensive cooperation in the field of countering transnational organized drug crime, and further ways of improving national legislation in this area were identified.

Keywords: European security policy, transnational drug crime, illicit drug trafficking, law enforcement, international drug business, drug crime prevention, drug trafficking.

06/2023

Abstract. The Parliamentary Research provides an analysis of the Draft Law of Ukraine «On the State Service of Special Constructions», primarily with regard to its prospects for ensuring proper legal regulation in the field of capital construction and restoration of defence and dual-use infrastructure facilities. For this purpose, it compares the provisions of the Draft Law with the provisions of the current legislation that govern these issues. Also, it identifies and analyses the existing risks that may prevent the implementation of the Draft Law as well as the objectives and goals set out therein. It considers the compliance of the Draft Law with the requirements of strategic program documents defining the main directions of military policy and development of the defence forces of Ukraine, as well as with the documents establishing international legal standards in the research area. In addition, with this purpose, there is an analysis of the experience of legal regulation of construction and exploitation of defence facilities in such countries as the French Republic and the Republic of Poland. The research concludes that the Draft Law is capable to ensure the creation of an effective system for the construction of defence and military infrastructure facilities in Ukraine.

ANALITICAL NOTES

325. Analytical Note on Comparative Legislation concerning Civilian Democratic Control of Intelligence Agencies in Selected European States

https://research.rada.gov.ua/uploads/documents/34375.pdf

Abstract. The analytical note examines the conceptual foundations and mechanisms of civilian democratic control in the field of intelligence. Based on an analysis of the experience of Finland, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Belgium, the Netherlands, France, the Great Britain, Germany, Poland, Lithuania, Latvia, and Estonia, the study explores the oversight powers of specialized parliamentary committees with respect to the activities of intelligence agencies, as well as the arrangements governing their members' access to restricted information. Particular attention is paid to governmental and judicial oversight, as well as to reporting by the heads of intelligence agencies to parliamentary committees. The study also examines the role and significance of civil society in the exercise of non-parliamentary oversight of intelligence agencies. The study analyses and synthesises best foreign practices in organizing civilian democratic control over the activities of intelligence agencies with a view to identifying effective oversight models, highlighting positive practices, and identifying risks and problematic aspects. Based on the findings of the study, proposals are formulated for adapting best European practices to improve Ukraine's system of civilian democratic control over the activities of intelligence agencies in the context of developing strategic directions for state security policy under martial law.

Keywords: civilian democratic control, intelligence agencies, parliamentary oversight, governmental oversight, judicial oversight, law enforcement function, civil society.

Particular attention is paid to the regulatory requirements and standards applicable in NATO member states concerning admission to and access to state secrets (classified information). The note also outlines the conditions, procedures, and rules governing access to and handling of classified information required by Members of the European Parliament for the exercise of their legislative and oversight functions. Based on the results of the analysis, the following existing models are identified and summarised: Scandinavian, Anglo-Saxon, Eastern European, and Baltic. Their common features and key differences in the subject matter of legal regulation are outlined, in particular with regard to the established procedures for undergoing a special vetting process or for obtaining automatic access to state secrets by virtue of a parliamentary mandate. The specific features of the legislation of the respective EU and NATO member states concerning the organisation and conduct of special vetting procedures, taking into account national particularities, are also systematised. Conclusions and proposals are formulated regarding the use of EU and NATO member states' experience for improving the legal regulation of procedures governing the organisation and conduct of special vetting for admission to and access to state secrets, as well as access to intelligence information by designated persons. Key words: special vetting, access to state secrets, admission to state secrets, classified information, parliamentary oversight, level of classification, secret information, secrecy regime, state policy on the protection of state secrets, parliamentary mandate, special oath of confidentiality.

405. Concept of reforming the legislation of Ukraine on administrative liability

Abstract. The Concept substantiates the necessity of reforming the legislation of Ukraine on liability for administrative offences, primarily to harmonise it with the legal standards of the European Union and the practice of the European Court of Human Rights in this area. The Concept notes the absence of a single legislative act in Ukraine that would systematically regulate all social relations arising in the area of liability for violation of administrative statutes, and would also meet the current requirements of social development, numerous changes that have taken place in the legislation and legal system of the state since the adoption of the current Code of Ukraine on Administrative Offenses in 1984. As a result, the central focus of the Concept is on the argumentation in favor of the immediate preparation and adoption of a new Code of Ukraine on Administrative Offences, which should enshrine the absolute priority of its regulations over all other legal acts on administrative liability, and incorporate all the latest tensions, principles and requirements of the current state of administrative tort legislation. The Concept provides a detailed description of the main aspects of reforming this branch, defines the indicative structure of the new Code, reviews new provisions on the regulation of types of administrative offences, subjects responsible for their commission, bodies authorised to consider cases of such offences, administrative tort procedure and other new provisions to be envisaged in the Code. In addition, it proposes the main stages of reforming the legislation on administrative liability.

Key words: reform of legislation, administrative liability, Code of Ukraine on Administrative Offences, public administration, administrative offences regulation, subjects of administrative offences, administrative tort procedure.

406. Concept «Optimization of the processes of personnel selection and qualification assessment of judges»

Abstract. Having recommended that Ukraine be granted candidate status, the European Commission put forward demands for reforms, which consist of seven blocks. Among them is the continuation of judicial reform, which is one of the most urgent because the special status of the judicial branch of government requires compliance with a number of standards. Implementation of functions by bodies of judicial governance, in particular in the area of personnel and disciplinary issues, is one of the areas of improvement of judicial legislation. Taking into account the European integration plans of Ukraine, the issue of introducing competitive selection for the appointment of highly qualified judges to the Constitutional Court of Ukraine, as well as improving the provisions established by judicial legislation regarding qualification evaluation of judges, career of judges and optimization of the process of personnel selection of judges in general. The Concept contains appropriate recommendations for optimizing the processes of personnel selection and qualification evaluation of judges.

Key words: justice, judicial reform, judicial power, personnel selection, evaluation of judges.

PARLIAMENTARY STUDIES

409. Parliamentary Study on European Union and Council of Europe Standards for the Protection and Processing of Personal Data in Law Enforcement Activities

https://research.rada.gov.ua/uploads/documents/34321.pdf

Abstract. The parliamentary study provides an analysis of the standards of the Council of Europe and the European Union in the field of personal data protection within the activities of the police and criminal justice authorities. The material systematizes international legal instruments and the case-law of the European Court of Human Rights (ECtHR), which form a unified European legal framework for the protection of informational privacy.

The study explains the essence of interference with the right to privacy through the "three-part test" and establishes the obligation of personal data controllers to differentiate data by categories of persons (suspects, convicted persons, victims, witnesses) and by the nature of the information ("hard" facts versus "soft" assessments). It details the special (sensitive) status of data on criminal convictions, emphasizes the rehabilitative purpose of data processing and the inadmissibility of lifelong stigmatization of convicted persons, and substantiates the requirement for differentiated storage periods for biometric data depending on the severity of the offence. Based on the case-law of the European Court of Human Rights (ECtHR), the study demonstrates the legal inadmissibility of automatic restrictions on the rights of individuals (in particular, prisoners) based solely on their formal status, without an individualized assessment of their current level of risk.

The study outlines the criteria for the independence of supervisory authorities, their investigative and corrective powers, as well as the right of individuals to effective judicial protection and compensation for material and non-material damage. Recommendations are provided for improving national legislation, in particular regarding a clear distinction between the general and law enforcement regimes governing the protection and processing of personal data and the implementation of the principle of accountability of public authorities.

Keywords: lawfulness of interference, “hard” and “soft” personal data, individualized risk assessment, processing of conviction data, data protection impact assessment, data protection officer, DNA profile, fingerprints, supervisory authority.

410. Parliamentary Study on Certain Aspects of Criminal Law Protection of Children in Ukraine

https://research.rada.gov.ua/uploads/documents/34346.pdf

Abstract. The parliamentary study examines certain aspects of the criminal law protection of children against violence, in particular the normative legal regulation of limitation periods for criminal liability, the rules for sentencing in cases involving a combination of criminal offenses, the criteria for defining the concept of «grave consequences» of rape, and the grounds for criminal liability of officials for inaction in cases of detected violence against children.

The state of criminal law protection of the life and sexual inviolability of children in Ukraine is analyzed, and prospects for legislative activity in the field of combating violence against children are outlined.

Keywords: criminal offense, limitation period for criminal liability, cruel treatment, violence, children, grave consequences, punishment.

412. Parliamentary Study on the Legal Nature of Apparent Conflict of Interest

https://research.rada.gov.ua/uploads/documents/34089.pdf

Abstract. The parliamentary study examines the issues related to the legal nature of an apparent conflict of interest in the context of European experience in the legislative framework for corruption prevention.

The study analyses regulatory approaches to defining the concept of an apparent conflict of interest within the European Union legislation, clarifies its legal nature, and identifies two models of legal regulation of apparent conflicts of interest in EU Member States (Denmark, the Netherlands, Slovenia, and Croatia).

It also outlines prospects for legislative development aimed at preventing and regulating apparent conflicts of interest in Ukraine.

Key words: apparent conflict of interest, corruption, models of legal regulation, public official, anti-corruption legislation.

413. Parliamentary Study on Legislative and Institutional Support for Combating Organised Crime in Ukraine

Abstract. The parliamentary study analyses the issues related to improving legislative regulation and establishing an effective system of institutional support for combating organised crime in Ukraine, taking into account the current criminogenic situation and the social challenges caused by martial law and the repulsion of Russian armed aggression.

The study examines the Law of Ukraine "On the Organizational and Legal Framework for Combating Organised Crime" with regard to the existence of inconsistencies and gaps; draft laws on the prevention of and counteraction to organized crime in Ukraine; and the recommendations of the European Commission, as set out in the Report on Ukraine within the framework of the European Union Enlargement Package 2025, concerning the harmonization of Ukrainian legislation with the core requirements of EU law (acquis) in the field of combating organised crime.

The results of the study identify risks and gaps in the legislative regulation of public relations in this area, which hinder the establishment and effective functioning of a comprehensive institutional system for combating organized crime in Ukraine. The study proposes introducing the necessary amendments to Ukraine's special legislation aimed at modernising and streamlining the institutional and legal framework for combating organised crime, in line with relevant EU standards and taking into account the need to ensure national security under martial law and in the context of repelling the armed aggression of the Russian Federation.

Key words: organised crime, legal regulation of combating organized crime, institutional support for countering organised criminal groups, law enforcement agencies, national coordination body, regulation of the activities of specialised units.

417. Parliamentary research on the conceptual framework for strengthening the fight against organized crime in Ukraine

https://research.rada.gov.ua/uploads/documents/33439.pdf

Abstract. The parliamentary research examines the conceptual foundations of improving the legal regulation of preventing and combating organized crime in Ukraine, taking into account modern social trends and challenges. To this end, strategic and other program documents of public policy, international legal acts, including those of the European Union (hereinafter referred to as the EU), defining the institutional and legal framework of international cooperation in combating organized crime, and relevant international and European legal standards were analyzed. Particular attention is paid to the recommendations of the European Commission, set out in the Reports on Ukraine within the framework of the EU Enlargement Package for 2022-2024, aimed at harmonizing Ukrainian legislation with the main requirements of EU law (acquis) in the field of combating organized crime.

Based on the results of the research, it is proposed to adopt a separate Law on the Principles of State Policy on Counteracting Organized Crime, approve the updated National Strategy for Combating Organized Crime, and take other organizational and legal measures to modernize the system for combating organized crime according to EU standards and best practices, as a component of ensuring the national security of Ukraine in the conditions of martial law.

Abstract. The informational reference contains an analysis of the draft Law of Ukraine (No. 14228, dated 17.11.2025), which provides for amendments to the current legislation regarding the introduction of a special coordinator for preventing and countering anti-Semitism. The draft law is aimed at implementing the provisions of the EU Strategy on Combating Anti-Semitism and Promoting Jewish Life (2021-2030), which requires the appointment of relevant coordinators.

The violation of the systematicity and coherence of the draft law norms, as well as the lack of functional unity (ensuring the formation and implementation of policy should be the responsibility of one special body), is substantiated. Attention is drawn to the presence of legal gaps due to the absence of a norm on liability for failure to comply with or obstruction of the implementation of legal requirements and mandatory measures taken by the authorized central executive body.

Key words: anti-Semitism, special coordinator, European integration, requirements of European Union legislation.

527. Informational reference on the balance of fundamental rights (Articles 6 and 10 of the European Convention on Human Rights (ECHR)) in the context of the relationship between the media and the judiciary

https://research.rada.gov.ua/uploads/documents/33877.pdf

https://research.rada.gov.ua/uploads/documents/33876.pdf

Abstract. The informational reference highlights the need to balance the fundamental rights enshrined in the European Convention on Human Rights: freedom of expression (Article 10) and the right to a fair trial (Article 6), which is an imperative to fulfill the requirements of negotiating chapter 23 of Cluster 1 "Fundamentals of the EU accession process."

It is emphasized that within the framework of the European integration process, it is critically important to accelerate the harmonization of Ukrainian legislation with the Directive of the European Parliament and of the Council on the protection of persons involved in public activities against manifestly unfounded lawsuits or abuse of judicial procedures ("Strategic lawsuits against public participation", (Anti-SLAPP)), the Regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council on the Single Market for Digital Services (Digital Service Act, (DSA)) and the Regulation of the European Parliament and of the Council establishing a common framework for media services in the internal market (European Media Freedom Act, (EMFA)).

The balance of relations involves the transition of the judiciary to proactive communication and the use of digital tools to explain its decisions to a wide audience. The key to its sustainability is the development of interprofessional cooperation (Soft Law) and adherence to the fundamental concept of human dignity as the main ethical and legal foundation.

Abstract. The informational reference is devoted to the urgent problem of ensuring effective judicial protection and exercising the right to appeal in cases of administrative offenses. The urgency is due to the need for further unification of procedural legislation, initiated within the framework of a large-scale legal reform in 2017, the purpose of which was to harmonize the rules of civil, commercial and administrative proceedings. However, the analysis revealed significant discrepancies between the appeal procedure enshrined in the procedural codes and Chapter 24 of the Code of Ukraine on Administrative Offenses. A comparative legal analysis of appeal mechanisms was conducted, in particular, regarding the calculation of the term when pronouncing a summary decision and the application of the institution of “leaving an appeal without motion”. It is proposed to

940. Overview dossier on foreign experience of foreign nationals employment and issuance of employment permits

11/2022

Abstract. International labor migration is an integral part of modern economic life. Labor migrants are important both for the economy of developed countries, in terms of staffing various sectors of production, and for the countries who are "providers" of labor resources. A significant part of the funds earned by migrants is sent to the homeland, thus reducing the poverty level of its population. States' perception of migratory interdependence stimulates the active search for legal mechanisms that allow migration flows to become more orderly and thereby ensure the effective use of migrants' labor potential and guarantees of their rights. One of the mechanisms of such regulation is employment permits.

Key words: migration, employment, employment permit, employment mediation, professional requirements, free movement, foreign nationals, labor force, immigration policy.

941. Overview dossier on foreign experience of reimbursement of expenses related to temporary incapacity

https://research.rada.gov.ua/uploads/documents/32223.pdf

Abstract. Mandatory state social insurance for temporary incapacity is a component of the system of mandatory state social insurance in almost all countries of the world. Benefiting from the experience of foreign countries, where this system has been functioning for a long time and has positive results, will help, especially after the end of active combat, to develop effective mechanisms for ensuring adequate and maximally acceptable management of risks that may arise when applying the system of payments in case of temporary loss of working capacity.

Key words: temporary incapacity for work, insurance record, certificate of temporary incapacity for work, doctor, employer.

942. Overview dossier on the issue of legislative regulation of granting a separate status to Defenders of Ukraine and their family members

https://research.rada.gov.ua/uploads/documents/32216.pdf

Abstract. The overview dossier deals with the research of the legislative regulation of granting a separate status to Defenders of Ukraine and their family members. Considerable attention was paid to the issues of updating the legislation in terms of social protection of war veterans (combatants) as benefit-oriented citizens in view of the need to distance from the "Soviet" organization of the system of relevant measures. Theoretical aspects of introduction of legal status for a new category of persons who "directly participated in operations to protect the independence, sovereignty and territorial integrity of Ukraine" was outlined. The historical and legal aspects of the mentioned issues have been studied. European Court of Human Rights practice has been analyzed; such practice indicates a constant increase in the number of categories of applications related to Ukraine's violations of the rights of individuals due to unjustified refusal to grant status or unjustified deprivation of status, as well due to failure to provide benefits or assistance based on lack of funding. Opinions on the issues raised in the applications were summarized and briefly stated in the Conclusion.

Key words: social protection system, war veteran, combatant, Defender, legal status, benefits, social support.

1143. Informational reference on the existing problems of the readiness of the housing subsidy payment system

https://research.rada.gov.ua/uploads/documents/32224.pdf

Abstract. Payment of utility bills is a significant financial problem for the majority of the country's population. The issue of assigning housing subsidies to vulnerable consumers of housing and communal services has become relevant in the conditions of martial law with new challenges arising in this regard. There is lack of experience of solving such problems in state practice of foreign countries. Research of the economic, social, organizational and legal aspects of the functioning of housing subsidy programs proves the need for the next stage of their reform.

Key words: housing subsidies, energy poverty, preferential tariffs, household income, monetization of benefits.

LEGISLATIVE ACTIVITY IN UKRAINE

	LEGISLATIVE ACTIVITY IN UKRAINE: PUBLIC DISCUSSION	The guide contains materials of expert and public discussions of topical issues of legislative activity in Ukraine. Based on the monitoring of websites of specialised institutions, NGOs, media, blogosphere, etc., articles and reports analysing draft laws registered in the Verkhovna Rada of Ukraine were selected and systematised by sector, outlining the risks of the draft laws as a whole or their individual provisions, as well as proposals for improving them. The Guide also includes materials on analysis and assessment of the implementation of legislative acts adopted by the Verkhovna Rada of Ukraine, information on their impact on public relations, and the existence of legislative conflicts and gaps. The guide was prepared in cooperation with the National Law Library.
